

"BECAUSE WE HAVE AN ETERNAL GOD"

Psalm 90

Main Idea: Because our lives are cut short as a consequence of His anger against sin, we need the eternal God to fill our lives with that which has eternal value.

Eternity of God c/w mortality of man (vs. 1-6)

The eternal "dwelling place"

Metaphors of transitory nature of man

God's wrath makes man transitory (vs. 7-11)

Sin as the object of God's anger

God's anger examined

Supplication for wisdom and grace

Numbering our days

Seeing His mercy early on

His beauty (favor) upon us

“Because We Have an Eternal God”

Psalm 90

1. What are some practical ways through which you can find God to be your dwelling place like Moses did?

2. What practical ways does God open up for you to help your children and grandchildren to know God as their dwelling place?

3. What are some practical ways of keeping the perspective of “numbered days” always before you so that you can apply your heart to wisdom?

4. What will it look like for the “beauty of the Lord” to be upon you? Is there some way you do not reflect His beauty that the group could pray for His work in you?
